MEMORANDUM FOR: Write Your Own (WYO) Company Principal Coordinators and the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) Servicing Agent

FROM: David I. Maurstad
David I. Maurstad
Federal Insurance Administrator
National Flood Insurance Program

SUBJECT: Loss of Community Rating System (CRS) Discounts for Certain High-Risk Structures

As previously announced, an upcoming change in the CRS policy will make some buildings ineligible for the CRS premium discount. Effective May 1, 2008, the CRS discount will be eliminated for most buildings where the lowest floor elevation is 1 foot or more below the Base Flood Elevation (BFE). I want to provide information about the scope and impact of the change and offer resources to help you communicate the change to your agents and policyholders.

Scope/Impact of the Change

As you know, the goals of the CRS are to reduce flood losses, to facilitate accurate flood insurance rating, and to promote awareness of flood insurance. As a CRS-participating community adopts a modern floodplain management ordinance and takes other measures to advance CRS goals, the NFIP allows premium discounts for flood insurance policyholders in the community. The more the community does to advance CRS goals, the greater the premium discount, up to a maximum of 45 percent.

Traditionally, the premium discount has been extended to all policyholders in the community, including those whose buildings are not compliant with NFIP construction criteria. This has created an unfair advantage for policyholders who have not adhered to the floodplain management ordinance established by the community for new construction. Elimination of the CRS discount for buildings with the lowest floor elevation 1 foot or more below the BFE is a significant first step in remedying the inequity.

The new minimum elevation requirement applies only to elevation-rated, Post-FIRM (Flood Insurance Rate Map) buildings in a high-risk Special Flood Hazard Area. Please see the attached excerpt from the NFIP/CRS Update newsletter for additional information on the new requirement, which will affect approximately 38,000 policies nationwide. This does not apply to Pre-FIRM buildings in any flood zone, even if a later map revision changed the flood zone or BFE.

Communicating the Change

FEMA has contacted CRS coordinators in the 830 affected communities to provide them with information they will need to work with policyholders who contact them for assistance. I am requesting WYO companies do their part to ensure this information is communicated to insurance agents and policyholders. The information in the following documents, which are attached to this memorandum, can help you prepare your flood insurance agents and policyholders:

- Loss of Discount cover message sent to CRS coordinators
- NFIP/CRS Update newsletter excerpt
- Summary of affected CRS communities by Region, State, and community ranking

Other resources that will assist your agents are available on the NFIP website:

- WYO Clearinghouse Bulletin W-08013, March 14, 2008, "NFIP Talking Points on CRS Premium Increases..."
- NFIP Flood Insurance Manual, May 1, 2008, Reissue (in particular, the cover letter and the Lowest Floor Guide section)

In addition, FEMA is developing a Web-based training module to help agents respond to questions about the loss of CRS discounts. FEMA will notify you when the module is available.

If you have questions, please contact your NFIP Bureau WYO Business Analyst.

Subject: New Policy on CRS Discounts

This e-mail is to advise you of a new policy on flood insurance rating for certain buildings in your community. As you know, flood insurance policy holders in your community receive discounts on their annual premiums depending on their flood zone and your community's CRS classification. In short, the more communities do to prevent and reduce flood losses, the more their residents benefit with reduced premiums.

One problem with this approach is that everyone benefits from the community's rating, even those who own buildings that are at high risk and may not be compliant with the NFIP's construction criteria. Accordingly, FEMA is initiating a change in the way CRS premium discounts are applied.

Effective May 1, 2008, FEMA will institute a new policy: Flood insurance policies for buildings that are rated as having the lowest floor one foot or more below the base flood elevation (BFE) will no longer be eligible for the community's CRS discount. Some clarifications:

- In most cases, the affected structures are non-compliant, i.e., in violation of the NFIP construction criteria. They may have received a variance from the community. If so, the variance applicant was advised that "the issuance of a variance to construct a structure below the base flood level will result in increased premium rates for flood insurance" as required by 44 CFR 60.6(a)(5).
- This new policy only affects elevation rated buildings. Typically, these are new construction or "Post-FIRM" buildings, not older buildings that qualify for the Pre-FIRM "subsidized" rates.
- It only affects buildings in the mapped Special Flood Hazard Area. Buildings in B, C or X Zones are not rated based on the elevation of their lowest floors.
- It does not affect properties in V Zones that have approved breakaway walls and the enclosures are unfinished and used only for building access, storage and parking, but were rated based on the enclosed area being the lowest floor.

The policy does not affect buildings that were compliant when they were built, but later a new map changed the flood zone and/or raised the base flood elevation to a level above the lowest floor. These structures can be "grandfathered" so they keep premiums based on the flood zone and/or BFE at the time of construction.

The policy will impact approximately 38,000 structures in 830 of the 1,080 CRS communities. Your community is one of those affected. Attached is a list of the properties that will lose their CRS discounts between May 1, 2008, and April 30, 2009. We can provide this data in a Microsoft Excel file format if you'd like. PLEASE NOTE THAT THIS LIST CONTAINS INSURANCE POLICY INFORMATION SUBJECT TO THE PRIVACY ACT, LIKE YOUR REPETITIVE LOSS PROPERTY LIST. DO NOT RELEASE IT OR SHARE IT WITH UNAUTHORIZED PERSONNEL.

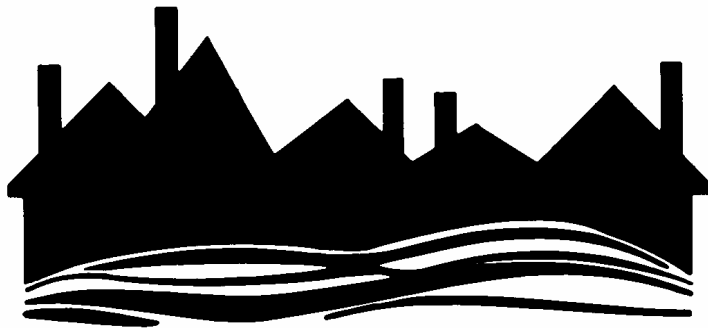

Policyholders with May renewals will receive renewal billing notices in March or April. Most will not know why there is an increase as their renewal statement may not mention it or their premiums are paid by a mortgage escrow account. However, upon receipt of payment of the annual renewal the issued declaration page will have a zero for the CRS discount. If policyholders are curious about this loss of the discount, they may contact your office.

If you are contacted, it is recommended that you tell inquirers two things:

1. They should talk to their insurance agent to verify how the structure has been rated. It is possible that there is an error in the lowest floor or base flood elevation. It is possible that the building has not been fully “grandfathered” to reflect that it was built in compliance before a map change (they may need your help to determine the flood zone and/or base flood elevation at the time of construction). If these errors can be corrected to show that the building is not one foot or more below the base flood elevation, then the property owner should ask their insurance agent to correct the policy. You may need to provide supporting documentation to correct the errors.
2. If the policy is correctly rated, advise the person that there may be ways to retrofit the structure to bring it into compliance. For example, the lowest floor used for rating may be the floor of an attached garage or an enclosed parking area in a high rise structure. If the owner puts in flood openings or otherwise modifies the enclosure to reduce or eliminate the potential for water damage, the building can be re-rated. Not only will the policy have the CRS discount, the fact that the lowest floor for rating purposes is above the BFE will greatly reduce the premium. If your community is receiving credit for CRS Activity 360 (Flood Protection Assistance), be sure to document your advice to the policyholder.

You may want to have a supply of the publication, Homeowner's Guide to Retrofitting: Six Ways to Protect Your House from Flooding, FEMA-312. Chapter 6, for example, describes how flood openings can be installed to wet floodproof the lowest floor and bring the building into compliance.

This book can be downloaded from FEMA's website at www.fema.gov/hazard/flood/pubs/lib312.shtm. Communities are welcome to put a link to this site on their own websites. Hard copies can be ordered using the order form in Appendix E of the CRS Coordinator's Manual.

NFIP/CRS UPDATE

Winter 2007–2008

High-risk Structures to Lose CRS Discount

The Community Rating System (CRS) provides a flood insurance premium discount in participating communities that implement floodplain management activities above and beyond the minimum criteria of the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP). Policy holders receive 5 to 45% discounts on their annual premiums, depending on their flood zone and the community's CRS classification. In short, the more communities do to prevent and reduce flood losses, the more their residents benefit with reduced premiums.

One problem with this approach is that everyone benefits from the community's rating, even those who own buildings that are at high risk and may not be compliant with the NFIP's construction criteria. Accordingly, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) is initiating a change in the way CRS premium discounts are applied.

Effective May 1, 2008, FEMA will institute this new policy: Flood insurance policies for buildings that are rated as having the lowest floor one foot or more below the base flood elevation will no longer be eligible for the community's CRS discount. Some clarifications:

- In most cases, the affected structures are non-compliant, i.e., in violation of the NFIP construction criteria. They may have received a variance from the community. If so, the variance applicant was advised that "the issuance of a variance to construct a structure below the base flood level will result in increased premium rates for flood insurance" as required by 44 CFR 60.6(a)(5).
- This new policy only affects elevation-rated buildings. Typically, these are new construction or "post-FIRM" buildings, not older buildings that qualify for the pre-FIRM "subsidized" rates.
- Only buildings in the mapped Special Flood Hazard Area are affected. Buildings in B, C, or X Zones are not rated based on the elevation of their lowest floors.
- It does not affect those V-Zone properties that have approved breakaway walls surrounding unfinished enclosures used only for building access, storage, and parking, but that were rated based on the enclosed area's being the lowest floor.

The policy does not affect buildings that were compliant when they were built, but whose flood zone has been changed and/or whose base flood elevation has been raised to a level above the lowest floor through the issuance of a new map. These structures can be "grandfathered" so they keep premiums based on the flood zone and/or base flood elevation at the time of construction.

The new policy will affect about 38,000 structures in 830 of the 1,080 CRS communities. Local CRS Coordinators will be sent a list of the properties that will be affected before May. Policy holders with May or June renewals will receive renewal billing notices in March or April.

Most policy holders will not know why there is an increase because their renewal statement may not mention it or their premiums are paid by a mortgage escrow account. However, upon receipt of payment of the annual renewal, the issued declaration page will have a zero for the CRS discount. If policy holders are curious about this loss of the discount, they may contact their community's CRS Coordinator.

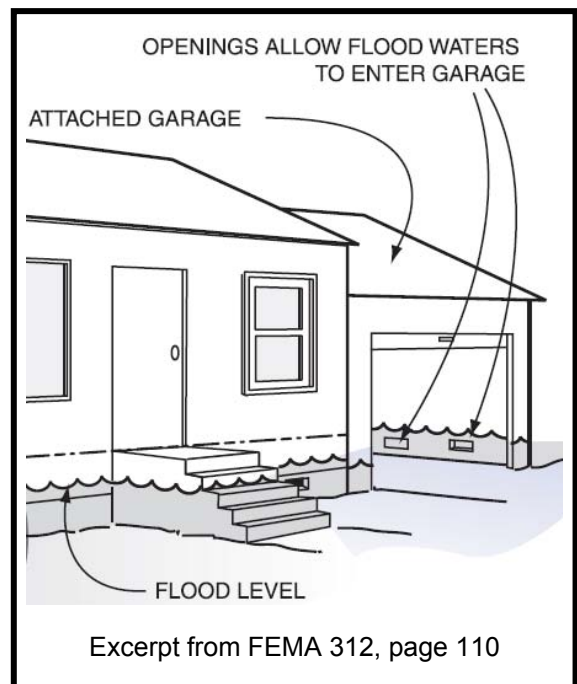

If you are contacted, it is recommended that you tell the policy holders two things:

1. They should talk to their insurance agent to verify how the structure has been rated. It is possible that there is an error in the lowest floor or base flood elevation. It is possible that the building has not been fully "grandfathered" to reflect that it was built in compliance before a map change (they may need your help to determine the flood zone and/or the base flood elevation at the time of construction). If these errors can be corrected to show that the building is not one foot or more below the base flood elevation, then the property owner should ask his or her agent to correct the policy. You may need to help with supporting documentation to correct the errors.
2. If the policy is correctly rated already, advise the person that there may be ways to retrofit the structure to bring it into compliance. For example, the lowest floor used for rating may be the floor of an attached garage or an enclosed parking area in a high rise structure. If the owner puts in flood openings or otherwise modifies the enclosure to reduce or eliminate the potential for water damage, the building can be re-rated. Not only will the policy have the CRS discount, but also the fact that the lowest floor for rating purposes is above the base flood elevation will greatly reduce the premium. If your community is receiving credit for Activity 360 (Flood Protection Assistance), be sure to document your advice to the policy holder.

You may want to have a supply of the publication, Homeowner's Guide to Retrofitting: Six Ways to Protect Your House from Flooding, FEMA-312. Chapter 6, for example, describes how flood openings can be installed to wet floodproof the lowest floor and bring the building into compliance.
